

Speaker Bio

Dr Francis Gaffney, Director of Threat Intelligence for Mimecast

Francis has worked as an analyst in the risk management and international cyber security sectors for over 20 years with particular interests in strategic policy and threat intelligence.

His academic background includes a PhD in Defence & Security and Master's degrees in Information Technology and International Law. He has contributed to two books.

At Mimecast, Francis is the Director of Threat Intelligence and is responsible for the generation of policy & doctrine, resource planning, and intelligence production. He leads two separate teams – the Intelligence Analysis Team and the Data Science & Overwatch Team.