

Speaker Bio

Stewart Bertram

Director of Professional Service and Closed Sources, Digital Shadows

Stewart is the Director of Professional Service and Closed Sources at Digital Shadows and responsible for any project undertaken by the organisation that falls outside of the core SearchLight™ offering.

With a long career in Threat Intelligence dating back to 2009 and technical intelligence dating back further to 2004, Stewart brings a significant amount of experience to any TI related project be it threat led penetration testing or more thematic and research based projects.

Stewart's Threat Intelligence research interests range from the geostrategic to the more technical aspects of cyber security and his research has been published in various books and academic peer review journals.