

Fabric Readiness Assessment

Helping you navigate Microsoft Fabric with confidence.

A structured, partner-led assessment designed to evaluate your organisation's readiness to adopt Microsoft Fabric. It helps you understand where Fabric fits in your data landscape and how to move forward with clarity and purpose.

Why now?

As interest in Microsoft Fabric grows, many organisations are asking:

- ❓ Where does Fabric fit within our existing data ecosystem?
- ❓ How does it complement tools like Power BI?
- ❓ What does it mean for our long-term data strategy?

Our Fabric Readiness Assessment helps you:

- ✅ Make sense of Fabric's capabilities and positioning.
- ✅ Understand how it aligns with your current tools and goals.
- ✅ Gain clarity on whether, when, and how to adopt it.

How does it work?

Delivered by a certified Microsoft partner, the assessment includes:

- Discovery workshops with key stakeholders
- Review of your current data architecture and strategy
- Evaluation of technical and organisational readiness
- Tailored recommendations based on your environment

What do you get?

A clear view of Fabric's value to your business

See where it drives ROI and delivers quick wins for your business.

Recommended adoption pathways

With phased roadmaps and pilot options to get started with confidence.

Strategic input to support planning and decision-making

To align stakeholders with clear strategy, cost insights, and governance.

Practical next steps tailored to your goals

Move forward with an action plan that matches your objectives.

Following the assessment, our Fabric Enablement Service helps you confidently transition to Microsoft Fabric, building on the insights gained to accelerate adoption and value realisation.

Who is it for?

- Data & analytics leaders seeking clarity on strategy
- Technical architects evaluating platform fit
- Data platform owners exploring consolidation opportunities
- Business intelligence teams aiming to scale analytics securely and efficiently
